Eligibility: Dentists throughout Wisconsin have volunteered to provide dental care to people who because of permanent disability, chronic illness or advanced age (65+), lack income to pay for needed dental care. There are no rigid financial eligibility requirements; however, financial need is a major factor in the decision-making process. The DDS Dentists donate their time and services; they are not paid by WDA or anyone else. When a DDS dentist decides to treat you, s/he determines the treatment plan. When the treatment plan is completed, your treatment with the DDS program ends as well. The dentist has no obligation to provide donated care in the future or to maintain you as a client.
