

Tea Party

HAUNTED

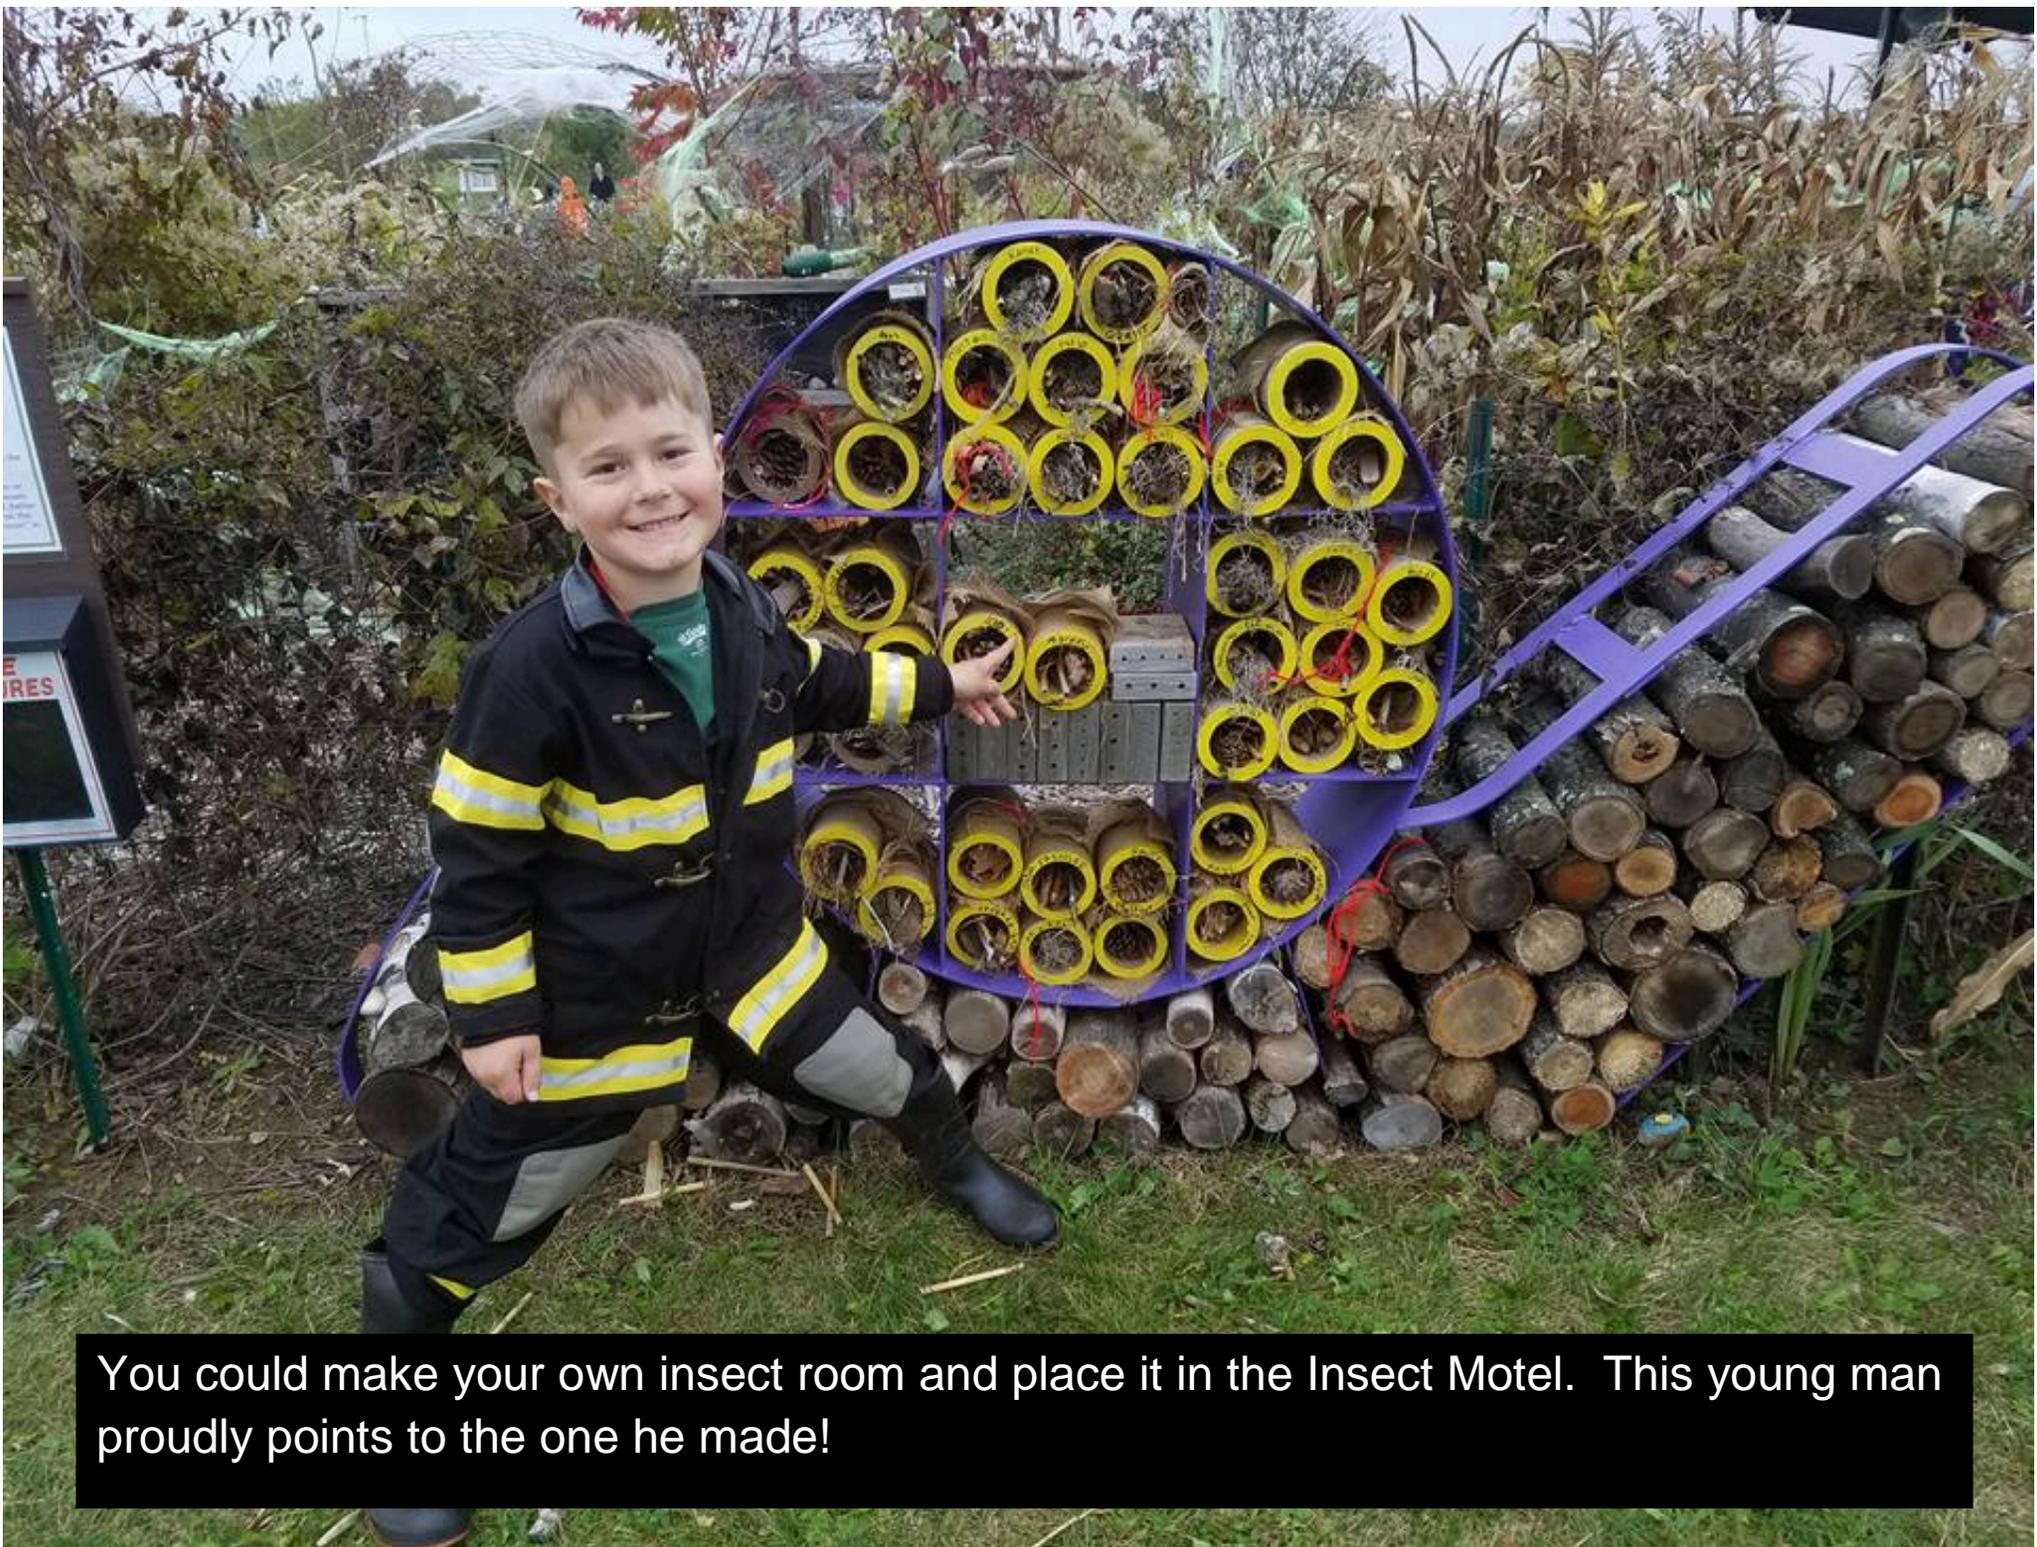

Halloween

Family

Fun Fest

The maze, featuring the Insect Motel, was decorated in full regalia. Enter if you dare!

You could make your own insect room and place it in the Insect Motel. This young man proudly points to the one he made!

The Mad Hatter and his assistant made an appearance at the Maze.

The shade house was turned into a haunted house and walkway. The skeletons look like they are saying, "Let . . . us OUT!!!"

“Excuse me Madam, but can you give me a hand? “

A bag of "Chamomile Tea" anyone?

Mrs. Ketchup was busy manning the sack races . . . a very popular game this year!

A lot of people came out for the festivities . . . even though the weather was a bit drizzly and cloudy. The registration staff were extra busy!

An overview of the Children's Garden area. Everybody that came received a pumpkin. There was plenty of fun things to see and do throughout the Arboretum.

Good times were had by all!

There were many different crafts to choose from! This was little white stones that you could make a ghost or headstone from!

Story time was placed in the greenhouse. Looks like everyone is enjoying the story!

A work of art by Linda near the shade house. Amazing what can be done with moss, rocks and bark!

A lot of celebrities showed up at the Fun Fest! Here, Elmo is going to meet up with Zolton, the fortune teller.

Everyone enjoyed the craft area. Adults as well as the kids!

Jandt Farms donated the pumpkins for the kids to decorate. Looks like some pretty scary ones

The costume parade for the young and old alike is always a big attraction!

More costume parade participants!

2016 Halloween Family Fun Fest comes to a close for another year.

Come and join us again next year! This will just keep getting bigger and better!

